EPISODE 201

THE RECORDING INDUSTRY: OFF THE RECORD, IN THE CLOUD

Gabe visits Jack White's Third Man Pressing to find out if the vinyl resurgence is just a fad, or if it's here to stay.

Third Man Record Pressing: Detroit, MI

Jack Conte, founder of Patreon and member of the husband/wife duo Pomplamoose, shares his story of going from a bedroom band to a YouTube sensation and founding one of the most successful creator crowdfunding platforms today.

EPISODE 202

RELIGION: CHURCH IN STATES

From tents to steeples to megachurches, religious groups have always been an important part of America for generations. Join us as we explore this topic in Season 2 of Reconnecting Roots!

Flushing, NY

Religion in America has got us looking up in wonder as we explore this diverse and complicated topic in Season 2 of Reconnecting Roots.

Mormon Temple: Salt Lake City, Utah

EPISODE 203

IRISH IMMIGRANTS: EMERALD ISLE TO ELLIS ISLAND

From the land of the green to the land of the free... Why did the Irish leave for America and why is it worth looking back? Join us in Season 2 of Reconnecting Roots as Gabe travels to Ireland to find out.

Dunquin Harbor: County Kerry, Ireland

Heading to the Emerald Isle, Gabe answers the question of why so many Irish people came to America. This helps us to better understand the DNA behind our diverse nation, while examining true immigrant success stories.

Murphy's Ice Cream: Dingle, Ireland

EPISODE 204

TRAVEL: MIGRATION TO MOBILITY

From migration to mobility, the reason we travel has changed alongside technology. Gabe visits a cutting edge Hyperloop company in California to see first hand how Americans hope to get around in the years to come.

Bibob Gresta, Chairman of Hyperloop TT: Los Angeles, CA

Trains, planes, automobiles, and...electric scooters? Check out our travel episode of Reconnecting Roots Season 2 to learn more about how our methods of traveling have evolved over the years!

Nashville, TN

EPISODE 205

HUNTING: FIELD TO FORK

In Season 2 of Reconnecting Roots, Netflix's "MeatEater" hosts Steven Rinella and Ryan Callaghan offer insight into the complicated history of hunting in America, while discussing how hunting is still relevant today.

National Bison Range: Moiese, MT

The hunt is on! Check out our hunting episode of Reconnecting Roots in Season 2 to learn how one of our most fundamental means for living threatened America's abundant wildlife, but also created a system to preserve it.

Ryan Callaghan: Culleoka, TN

EPISODE 206

NATIVE AMERICANS: AN UNCOMMON HISTORY

America has a difficult history when it comes to the narrative of Native Americans. To better understand how a sovereign nation functions as a part of "We The People," Gabe visits the Navajo Nation.

Cherokee Removal Memorial Park: Blytheville, TN

Gabe visits Mark Charles - a dual citizen of the US and Navajo Nation who is running as an independent candidate for president to build a nation where 'We the People' truly means #ALLTHEPEOPLE.

EPISODE 207

TRAINS: TRACKING PROGRESS

From transcontinental progress to high speed successes, in Season 2 , we talk about how trains catapulted America into the future, while never fully leaving the stations of our hearts.

Virgin Trains: Miami, FL

In the Season 2 finale, we ride the rails of history at the 150th Golden Spike anniversary. Gabe talks with descendants of Chinese railroad workers about their forgotten contributions to the Transcontinental Railroad, all while seeking to understand how the centuries-old technology keeps this country running today.

Golden Spike: Tremonton, UT
