Reconnecting Roots

ALLEN RICHARDSON | DECEMBER 17, 2019

Hope, Truth, Authenticity, Sincerity, Freedom, Faith

Unapologetic but encouraging.

Observant yet hopeful.

Authentic but celebratory.

We are all getting swept up in a tidal wave of change called progress. But somewhere among all this upgrading, updating, and modernizing, it might be a good idea to take a deep breath and check in on what's being lost.

Life is moving forward so fast, both technologically and culturally, how do we stay attached to the roots that made us? That's what Reconnecting Roots is all about—taking a moment to reflect on the heritage that's still all around us. And use it to spark conversation across generations.

So we're committed to sharing the stories that can illuminate the past and guide us forward.

Learning from yesterday to build a better tomorrow.

Framing the future through the past.

We inspire the future through the lessons of the past.

Thanks.
