At the video producer's request, this live program has been closed captioned using real-time (live) captions.

CompuScripts Captioning, Inc. uses real-time captioners' best practices to the best of its ability under prevailing circumstances. The video producer has been encouraged to use offline captioning for re-feeds of live programming that originally aired on television. The video producer has been informed what is necessary to produce quality real-time captions, including the need for preparatory materials.

If the above-referenced program as real-time captioned live by CompuScripts Captioning is altered or edited after airing, this certificate is null and void for the altered or edited program.

Witness my hand, this 12th day of January 2017, Richland County, South Carolina.
