Beaufort-based By The River series to be distributed nationally by American Public Television

Partnership will give students experience working on a national stage

COLUMBIA, S.C. – South Carolina ETV’s (SCETV) By The River, a weekly, half-hour literature-focused series filmed at ETV Lowcountry in Beaufort, S.C., is now being distributed nationally by American Public Television (APT) to viewers across the U.S.

To celebrate this new chapter of the local program, SCETV and the ETV Endowment of South Carolina hosted an open house at ETV Lowcountry on April 21, where attendees gathered to tour the By The River set, meet the show’s talent, and share stories about the path to this successful milestone.

Each week, By The River presents in-depth interviews with Southern authors, ending with a Poet’s Corner that features Southern poets reading their poetry set to illustrations by Southern artists. By The River is filmed on a Bronze Telly Award-winning set at ETV Lowcountry in Beaufort, S.C.

Achieved in partnership with the University of South Carolina Beaufort (USCB), the entire crew for the show consists of USCB Communication Studies students. Thirty-four USCB students have worked on By The River over the past five years, majoring in Communication Studies, English, Media Arts and Interdisciplinary Studies. The show is hosted by Holly Jackson, Director of Operations and Content at ETV Lowcountry and is produced by Dr. Caroline E. Sawyer, Associate Professor of Communication Studies at USCB.

In addition to receiving multiple Telly Awards in previous years, By The River received two accolades from The Communicator Awards in 2021— the Communicator Award of Excellence in the Television Cultural category and the Communicator Award of Distinction in the Television Interview category. Most recently, By The River received an inaugural Anthem Award in the Education, Art, & Culture Awareness – Special Projects and a Southeast Emmy Nomination in the Interview/Discussion – Long Form Category.

As an APT-distributed series, By The River will also be available for streaming on the PBS app and on PBS.org. Learn more about By The River on the SCETV website.

QUOTES:

"By The River perfectly depicts the value that public media can bring to a community. As a collaboration with USCB, this project offers students an experience they can’t get anywhere else in South Carolina, and I’m proud to see all their great work now being elevated to new audiences.” - Anthony Padgett, President and CEO, South Carolina ETV and Public Radio

“Starting from humble beginnings, I always knew By The River would be able to connect with audiences in South Carolina and beyond. I’m excited to be just one member of the team that has helped to grow this program to a national stage.” – Don Godish, SCETV Director of National Content and Regional Operations

"By The River is our love letter to Southern stories and the authors and poets who write them, while also providing the ultimate experiential learning opportunity for USCB communication studies students."
These students will now have the experience working on a national program to add to their resumes in preparation for post-graduation.” – Holly Bounds Jackson, Host of By The River
