

Episodic Descriptions

Episode 101: How She Rolls

Long description:

Approximately 400 characters

It's a full life, every day for Carrie Morey, who runs a growing business based on her mother's biscuit recipe. She does this from her kitchen, her car, food festivals, her daughter's volleyball games and anywhere else she finds herself around Charleston. In the series premiere, Carrie and her team enjoy a successful morning serving from a new food truck, present a cooking demonstration at a food festival and hold the company's first ever staff retreat.

Medium description:

Approximately 240 characters

It's a full life, every day. Carrie Morey runs a growing business based on her mother's biscuit recipe. She does this from her kitchen, her car, food festivals, her daughter's volleyball games and anywhere else she finds herself around Charleston.

Short description:

Approximately 150 characters

Carrie Morey runs a growing business from her kitchen, her car, food festivals, her daughter's volleyball games and anywhere else she finds herself.

Episode 102: Biscuits Rising... in Charlotte

Long description:

Approximately 400 characters

It's a race against the clock for Carrie and her team as final preparations are made to open a new Callie's Hot Little Biscuit location in Charlotte, North Carolina. Carrie travels to Charlotte to meet the new store's general manager for the first time and assist with training. In the middle of it all, Carrie must return home – three hours away – to celebrate her daughter's birthday. Shortly after a successful opening, the coronavirus pandemic reaches the Southeast.

Medium description:

Approximately 240 characters

Carrie and her team make final preparations to open a new store in Charlotte, North Carolina. In the middle of it all, Carrie must return home – three hours away – to celebrate her daughter's birthday. Shortly after a successful opening, the coronavirus pandemic reaches the Southeast.

Short description:

Approximately 150 characters

Carrie prepares to open a new store in Charlotte, North Carolina, and still makes it home for her daughter's birthday. Soon after the opening, the coronavirus pandemic hits.

Episode 103: This Was Not Part of the Plan

Long description:

Approximately 400 characters

On the day Carrie and her team are set to finally launch a rebrand of their biscuit business, the coronavirus overtakes America, forcing the team into uncharted territory and an uncertain future. Carrie's adaptability becomes an asset, however. Over the next few months, despite having to shed staff and facing supply chain challenges, Callie's Hot Little Biscuit discovers a new path to success.

Medium description:

Approximately 240 characters

On the day Carrie and her team are set to finally launch a rebrand of their biscuit business, the coronavirus overtakes America. Over the next months, she will shed staff, run out of flour, but also discover a new path to success.

Short description:

Approximately 150 characters

The coronavirus overtakes America. Over the next months, Carrie will shed staff, run out of flour but also discover a new path to success.

Episode 104: Farm to Table

Long description:

Approximately 400 characters

Carrie takes employees to Hickory Hill Milk, a South Carolina dairy farm, to see how one of their essential ingredients, buttermilk, is made. All are impressed by the robotic technology used in modern dairy farming, and Carrie concludes the trip by baking biscuits with Lisa, the farmer's wife. Meanwhile, back at Callie's Hot Little Biscuit, a staff of accomplished bakers competes to make the best pie.

Medium description:

Approximately 240 characters

While her staff of accomplished bakers compete to make the best pie, Carrie takes employees to a South Carolina dairy farm to see how one of their essential ingredients, buttermilk, is made. The day ends by making fresh biscuits with the farmer's wife.

Short description:

Approximately 150 characters

A staff pie contest takes place, and Carrie takes employees to a dairy farm to see how one of their essential ingredients, buttermilk, is made.

Please contact
etvcom@scetv.org with
any questions or concerns.

Episode 105: Warm and Buttery

Long description:

Approximately 400 characters

Carrie shows off her Charleston roots making shrimp and grits on the water with her dad. She then teams up with her mom, Callie, to prepare a giant snapper for a dinner party. Then, Carrie joins a few of her lifelong friends for a girls' night. Together, they prepare a salmon dish for dinner and reminisce about the early days of Carrie's business and how they banded together to help launch her biscuit empire.

Medium description:

Approximately 240 characters

Carrie makes shrimp and grits on the water with her dad. They create a giant feast with Callie, her culinary inspiration and mom. Then she and her lifelong friends create a girls only dinner and re-live how they banded together to launch the biscuit empire.

Short description:

Approximately 150 characters

Carrie makes shrimp and grits with her dad as part of a giant feast they are cooking up with Callie, Carrie's culinary inspiration and mom. Then, Carrie enjoys a girls' night with lifelong friends.

Episode 106: Recipe for Success

Long description:

Approximately 400 characters

In the middle of a pandemic, Carrie is asked to write a new cookbook. Since she never uses measurements while baking, Carrie enlists the help of Lindsay, a food blogger and friend, who recreates some of Carrie's best dishes to determine measurements and finalize recipe selections for the cookbook. Carrie also meets with famous Charleston barbecue chef Rodney Scott to discuss business and collaborations and somehow finds the time to mentor a woman just entering the online bakery business.

Medium description:

Approximately 240 characters

Carrie creates recipes for her next cookbook, enlisting a friend to assist in the process. She also meets with famous Charleston barbecue chef Rodney Scott to discuss business and collaborations and somehow still finds time to mentor a woman just entering the online bakery business.

Short description:

Approximately 150 characters

Carrie creates recipes for her next cookbook, meets with a renowned local barbecue chef and mentors a woman just entering the online bakery business.

Episode 107: How She Road Trips

Long description:

Approximately 400 characters

Carrie takes an RV road trip with chef Nathalie Dupree. The two explore biscuit making on a drive from Charleston to Atlanta, stopping to sample biscuits made in a gas station. They also meet chef Deborah Vantrece of Atlanta's Twisted Soul Restaurant. Together, the three culinary powerhouses compare stories of how they all came to understand the Southern cultural importance of biscuits.

Medium description:

Approximately 240 characters

Carrie takes an RV road trip with chef Nathalie Dupree to Atlanta to explore biscuit making. After stopping to sample biscuits made in a gas station, they arrive in Atlanta, meet with a local chef and reflect on how they all came to understand the cultural importance of biscuits.

Short description:

Approximately 150 characters

Carrie takes an RV road trip with chef Nathalie Dupree to Atlanta to explore biscuit making. The trip provides an opportunity to reflect on the cultural importance of biscuits.

Episode 108: Thanksgiving

Long description:

Approximately 400 characters

The Morey family puts together an annual outdoor feast on the barrier islands. This year, Carrie shows us how she prepares oyster pie with her aunt as the two look through the family recipe box. She also makes a mess with a guest from the U.K. and passes a family recipe down to her youngest daughter, Sarah. Then, on the bluffs over the river, under mossy oak trees, the family gives thanks after a challenging year for everyone.

Medium description:

Approximately 240 characters

The Morey family puts together an annual outdoor feast on the barrier islands. This year, Carrie shows us how she prepares oyster pie with her aunt, makes a mess with a guest from the U.K. and passes a family recipe down to her youngest daughter, Sarah.

Short description:

Approximately 150 characters

The Morey family puts together an annual outdoor feast on the barrier islands, Carrie has some fun in the kitchen with a few guests and a family recipe gets passed down.

Please contact
etvcom@scetv.org with
any questions or concerns.

Episode 109: You're Gonna Need a Bigger Bakery

Long description:

Approximately 400 characters

Carrie hires her long-time friend, Mason, to help the company sell more biscuits in grocery store chains. Mason helps land their largest deal ever – 1,200 stores! Although a huge win, the celebration is short-lived as the team has just 45 days to determine logistics for the new order. With storage capacity already nearing its maximum limit, how will they be able to bake, store and deliver 40,000 additional biscuits every week?

Medium description:

Approximately 240 characters

Carrie hires her long-time friend, Mason, to help the company sell more biscuits in grocery chains. Mason helps land their largest deal ever – 1,200 stores! The team has 45 days to figure out how to bake, store and deliver 40,000 additional biscuits every week.

Short description:

Approximately 150 characters

Carrie hires a long-time friend to help the company sell more biscuits in grocery chains, and she lands their largest deal ever – 1,200 stores!

Episode 110: Fear is Good

Long description:

Approximately 400 characters

Carrie must rebalance her work and her life. In addition to the hundreds of daily decisions that need to be made, some big decisions loom about the future of Callie's Hot Little Biscuit. Will she have to close a store? Can she afford to expand the bakery? Is she willing to let go of some things in order to grow? The season ends with an eye to the future for Carrie, her team and her family.

Medium description:

Approximately 240 characters

Carrie must rebalance her work and her life. There are hundreds of daily decisions and a few big choices about the future of Callie's Hot Little Biscuit. Will she have to close a store? Can she afford to expand the bakery? Is she willing to let go of some things in order to grow?

Short description:

Approximately 150 characters

As Carrie seeks to rebalance her work and her life, some big decisions loom about the future of the company and its respective stores.