

HOW SHE ROLLS™

Biographies

Carrie Morey

is an award-winning baker, entrepreneur and, most importantly, mother, wife and daughter who transformed a made-by-hand mail order biscuit company into a booming culinary business and became one of Charleston's top food stories.

Founded in 2005 as Callie's Charleston Biscuits, the initial goal for Carrie's business was to make her mother's tender, buttery, made-by-hand biscuits accessible across the country. More than 15 years later, Callie's goes by a new name, Callie's Hot Little Biscuit, and is widely recognized as an iconic Southern brand with national retail exposure and a devoted following.

Her handmade biscuits, pimento cheeses and other artisan goods have garnered 20 sofi awards from the Specialty Foods Association, and her eateries landed on Fortune's 2019 100 Fastest-Growing Inner City Businesses list.

Today, Carrie operates four grab-and-go eateries, with locations in Charleston, Atlanta and Charlotte, as well as a traveling food truck named Butter. In addition to these culinary establishments, she's also an author. In 2013, Carrie published "Callie's Biscuit and Southern Traditions," a cookbook and narrative on entrepreneurship and life in the Lowcountry.

Connect with Carrie

 @carriebaileymorey  @callieshotlittlebiscuit

 @carriebmorey  @Carrie-Morey-of-Callies-Biscuits-113718858641421

 www.calliesbiscuits.com

"How She Rolls" follows Carrie as she balances being a mom with the pressures of being a business owner. Whether she's traveling the country to attend food expos, dealing with the obstacles of opening a new store or putting work aside to prepare a dinner for her family, viewers will identify with Carrie's challenges and triumphs and will find inspiration in her heart and drive.

For interviews and bookings, contact:

Libba Osborne, Leapfrog PR
843.579.0500, losborne@leapfrogprco.com

Executive Producer Don Godish

has more than 40 years of content creation experience in public broadcasting, working for public media organizations in West Virginia, Kentucky and South Carolina. Currently, Don serves as director of National Content and Regional Operations at South Carolina ETV.

Throughout his career as a producer and director, key credits include PBS' "American Experience," "Adventures in Scale Modeling," "Sea Change," "Children in America's Schools" and a variety of documentaries filmed in the U.S., Europe and Canada.

As an executive producer, he has worked with the Southern film series "Reel South," "A Chef's Life" and "Somewhere South With Chef Vivian Howard." His work has garnered a national Emmy Award along with regional Emmys and numerous Telly Awards.

Producer and Director Eric Davis

is a media producer and writer with extensive experience in public television programming.

Recent broadcast projects include "Handcrafted America," which is available on Amazon Prime, and an episode of "Building Off the Grid" for Discovery Channel. Corporate customers include Ingersoll Rand, Duke Energy, the Foundation for the Carolinas and The Choir School.

Previously, he was the VP of Broadcasting and Content for WTVI where he oversaw local and documentary productions, earning seven regional Emmy awards. He was also the executive in charge of production for the national documentary "Overdraft."

In the community, Eric is the lead mentor for student/charity films at the 100 Words Film Festival where he coaches college students on producing short film. He currently serves as the Membership Chairman on the Executive Committee of the Mecklenburg County Boy Scouts of America.

He lives in Charlotte, N.C. with his wife, Jill, and two sons, Luke and Zane.

Executive Producer Scott Galloway

has written, directed and produced more than 800 television programs for a variety of networks, including ABC, A&E, Cooking Channel, Court TV, DIY, ESPN, Food Network, HGTV, History Channel, INSP, Lifetime, Ovation, public television, Travel Channel and Turner South.

He has directed and produced two theatrically released documentaries, "A Man Named Pearl" and "Children of All Ages." Both films have won multiple festival awards and have been screened throughout the world.

Scott has written and directed two documentary films that have been broadcast nationally on public television, including four-time Emmy-nominated "Our Vanishing Americana" and nine-time Telly award-winning "Overdraft."

He has been a featured director for the Southern Circuit Tour of Independent Filmmakers and has been chosen as a delegate for the American Documentary Showcase, a U.S. Department of State initiative featuring 30 documentary filmmakers and their films, which are said to represent the best in American documentary filmmaking.

Please contact etvcom@scetv.org with any questions or concerns.